Foster Parent Assistant allows user to manage financial information on the foster children in their care. It allows parents to track income, expenses and more. This is an add-on. Parents must have previously downloaded Foster Parent Assistant SPRINGFIELD, MA (June 3, 2013): Foster Parent Financial Assistant allows parents to keep track of financial information on their foster children. Parents can post income, expenses and reimbursements. The application keeps track of balances for foster parents. In addition, parents can keep track of reimbursable expenses. Foster Parent Financial Assistant is an add-on for Foster Parent Assistant. The add-on will not run if the parent has not downloaded the main application.

Foster Parent Financial Assistant is developed by Pine Point Mobile Solutions. The add on allows parents to keep track of individual income and expense transactions for their foster children. The transactions are assigned to the currently selected foster child. So, all transactions are matched with a particular child. Parents can enter individual income transactions and individual expense transactions. Each transaction is assigned a category. These categories can be customized as well. The start up screen displays various balance information as well as the name of the currently selected child. In addition to standard expenses, parents can enter reimbursable expenses. Then, once an expense has been reimbursed, the parent can update the software with the amount of the reimbursement.

“It is often helpful or necessary for foster parents to track financial information on their children“, says Pine Point Mobile Solutions lead developer Philip Foster. “We believe that Foster Parent Financial Assistant will provide foster parents with a more consistent way to track the finances on the children in their care.”

Foster Parent Financial Assistant is available on Google Play. It sells for $.99 and requires the FREE Foster Parent Assistant to run.
